Incidents of the Voting in Various Precincts throughout the County. The election in the city as well as in the county passed off very quietly. There was deep interest shown on all hands, but it was quiet. Only one fight was heard of, and that was in Union district. Some people on Seventeenth street got excited and one big fellow proposed to clean out a large crowd.

to be cleaned out, bus went of its own accord.

There were the usual number of peculiar incidents. In one precinct of Clay district the Democratic challenger Clay district the Democratic chailenger denied one man's right to vote. After the man had established his legal residence he remarked: "I came here to vote the Democratic ticket, but you have done what all the Republicans in the county could not do. You have converted me. I will vote the straight Republican ticket."

In another precinct a man who holds a prominent position under the Democratic federal administration voted, and after coming out remembered that he had forgotten to put a scratch on his ticket. It wentin as clean as the new fallen snow, and of course doesn't count for anybody—which is sad.

The feature of the day was the reception of the returns last night. The streets were full of people, especially in front of the morning newspaper offices, by magic lantern showed the enthusiasm of the crowd. Fourteenth street was crowded by a seething mass of humanity that impeded the street cars and raised a rousing welcome to the cheering news received over the wire. The apparatus at first refused to work properly, but the patience of the crowd was such as to not be thwarted by a small delay. Seldom in a presidential contest has more enthusiasm been expressed.

The first announcement that the New The first announcement that the New York World predicted Hill's defeat by 100,000 caught the crowd, and later when Morton's plurality seemed scrap-ing skyward, the cheers rose in one pro-longed roar. All the other dispatches were given a like reception, and it seem-ed as if the enthusiasm increased in ed as if the enthusiasm increased in proportion to the increase of the major-ities bulletined.

There was never such a crowd, either for size or enthusiasm, seen on the street, as that which cheered the buistreet, as that which cheered the bulletins shown in front of the INTELLIGENCER office. There were three thousand people, at least, gathered in front of the office, and they went wild over the bulletins, all of which showed gains for the Republican cause. From Ohio county, from Brooke county, from Belmont county, from New York state, from Wilson's district, from Marshall county, from everywhere it was the same formula, "Large Republican gains." Of course the ubiquitous tin horn was

It was a great victory all along the line, and the news met with a great reception in Wheeling. Seldom has such a night been seen, and seldom has there been such provocation for it.

At about half past ten Mayer's band appeared in front of the Inveltorscer office with a shouting throng of about 7,000 people, and the noise they made was plainly heard away on top of the hill in the Second and Third wards.

FOR GOOD ROADS.

An Interesting Report from the Agricultu-

Washington, Nov. 6.-The agricultural department is about to issue elaborate information on the subject of "good roads" which Congress has directed the department to investigate. The publication will embrace the entire proceedings of the national road conference held at Asbury park, N. J., July 5th and 6th last, at which conference every shade of opinion on improving roads was presented. Mr. Roy Stone, the special arent and groad engineer of the department, will, also include a number of addresses on the road questions. number of addresses on the road ques-tion. He makes no report, so that these addresses practically constitute a re-port Mr. Stone says among other things:

"The main question is how can a people having no surplus capital build good roads? For an answer, we must go where they have done it successfully and study the methods adopted. First, we must study all the economics possible in construction; second, we must find out all the parties to be benefitted and see that each bears his proper phase of the cost, whether or not he beand see that each bears his proper share of the cost, whether or not he belongs to the immediate locality or even to the present generation of men; third, we must look into local questions of road materials and transportation, and into all latest improvements in road implements and machinery.

"But who is to do all this? And that brings us to the first practical step in general road improvement, namely that every state should have a permanent commission composed of citizens of the highest character to undertake this in-commission composed of citizens of the highest character to undertake this investigation and recommend the necessary measures to the legislature to watch the workings of these measures when adopted, and to secure any possible improvement in them. The next step is to make the best possible use of convict labor in road-building. My own impression is that state prison convicts will be best employed in the preparation of road materials in quarry camps, or gravel pits, where they can be guarded and secluded as easily as in prisons, and that county prisoners and tramps should do the grading and all other preparatury work on the roads.

CHINA-JAPAN WAR,

The British Officials Demand an Imme diate Settlement of the Chung King Affair.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 6 .- The British officials here have sent an ultimatum to the viceroy demanding a settlement of the Chung King affair within seven days. The British demands are that Taotai Sheng be dismissed and degraded, the Chung King is to be saluted with 21 guns from the Taku forts and a money indemnity is to be paid to the owners of the Chung King.

On August 7, however, a dispatch from Shanghai announced the arrival there of the steamship Chung King and the captain of that vessel gave his vor-sion of the affair, whch gave it a more serious aspect. The captain said that while his ship was at Tungu, on the gulf of Pechili, Chinese soldiers went on board of her for the purpose of seizing the Japanese passengers. They found on board the steamship sixty Japanese, mostly women and children, and at once began to hunt them down. The Chinese pursued the Japanese all over the vessel bound them band and foot as soon as caught and flung them over on the wharf.

Li Hung Chang, eventually, upon the protests of the British Consul, commanded the Japanese to be returned on board the Chung King and ordered the Chinese soldlers who had made the raid to be severely punished.

HE KNEW TOO MUCH.

A Young Man Found Mysteriously Mur-dered-A Theory of the Affair.

TACOMA, WASH., Nov. 6 .- About daylight the lifeless body of Matthew A. Bartlett, a well known young man, was found on the sidewalk by a newsboy. His right ear was bruised and his nose bloody, but he bore no other marks of violence, though papers from his pock-ets were scattered about. His watch was untouched. The theory generally advanced is that Bartlett was murdered for knowing too much about the mys-torious death of Accountant Joseph Shadle at the Steilacoom asylum last month. Some claimed then that Shadle was poisoned, though a subsequent in-vestigation seemingly refuted the claim. At that time Bartlett was an attend-

At that time Bartlett was an attendant at the asylum, remaining until last September. Several nights of last week he was followed by two men and in explaining the matter to friends, he said that it was because he knew too much about the Shadle case. He bought a revolver and was much worried about the matter. Subsequently the two mysterious men attempted to hold him up, but he evaded them.
